

Invitation to Asklepius Medical Society's Virtual Forum

Dear Sir or Madam,

You are cordially invited to Asklepius Medical Society's virtual International Student Medical Forum on January 30, 2021 (Saturday).

Asklepius Medical Society is an independent student organisation started by students at St. Paul's Co-educational College in Hong Kong. We aim to foster discussions and develop a larger network of aspiring and current medical students based on our common interest.

The theme of our forum is "The Past, Present, and Future of Medicine: COVID, Surgery, and Alternative Medicine". It features lectures and seminars from 7 world-class medical professors in Hong Kong, small group forums, science project presentations, and networking opportunities. You can:

1. Meet and learn from our world-class guest speakers, such as:

- Professor LAI, Ching Lung
  - Chair Professor of Medicine and Hepatology at the University of Hong Kong, a Top 30 University Internationally
  - Pioneered the cure for Hepatitis B
- Professor LEUNG, Ping Chung, SBS, OBE, JP
  - Professor Emeritus of Orthopaedics and Traumatology at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, the Best Medical School under 50 years old in the world
  - Contributed hugely to the modernisation of Traditional Chinese Medicine
- Dr TO, Kelvin Kai-Wang
  - Head of the Department of Microbiology at HKU
  - Respiratory Viral Microbiologist, first to suggest COVID-19's human-to-human transmission
- The complete list of speakers and their topics can be viewed on our poster.

2. Discuss in small group forums on various topics, including the Ethics of Genetic Engineering, the Future of Surgery, the Application of AI in Medicine, and the Global COVID Situation;

3. Share your own science projects in the form of 5-minute presentations;

4. Network with fellow delegates around the world.
